1. Social and Cultural

We believe that social and cultural activities, are the main foundation for the development of society and the country. Therefore, it is our mission to actively contribute to promoting of citizenship culture and enhancing the quality of social life of our people by planning and implementing regular and effective programs in this field.

2. Education

The main wealth of a society is the educated people in that society. In today's era, which is called the era of knowledge, developed and leading countries in economic, political, social and other areas dedicate most of their investment on educating their people, especially their youth. Understanding this importance, the Arj Social Organization is proud to have made educational activities part of its practice area, in order to play an effective role in bringing up a trained and educated workforce in our our country, Afghanistan.

3. Legal Aid and Consultation

Living in a society and a world in which justice is served or in the other words, all its members know their rights and responsibilities as well as others' and do not violate the others' rights, has been and is one of the greatest ambitions of humans throughout the history.

Creating such a society is possible when all members of that community respect the rights of others and remain bind to their responsibilities everywhere and at all times. We, at Arj Social Organization provide counseling and legal aid services to our fellow citizens to let them understand their rights and responsibilities and take a long step towards the rule of law, security, stability and the creation of an ideal society based on the rule of law.

4. Employment

Increasing unemployment rate in the country is worrying and has recently become a serious problem; the main victims of this situation are the young and mostly educated people whom are threatened by many problems and dangers, including loss of professional skills and abilities, lack of motivation to work, poverty, disappointment, and other mental health problems, tendencies towards moral and social deviance, and thousands of other dangers. Understanding this crisis, Arj Social Organization, with its specialized and committed members and in cooperation with various national and international institutions, seeks to provide the necessary activities in the areas of advancing abilities and job skills, job creation, and employment to our people who suffer from unemployment.

5. Environment

The environment, or in simple words, the place where humans live, plays a basic and effective role in the mental and physical health of human beings and the quality of their activities and lives, and every individual who lives on the earth is responsible for its protection.

Although the protection of environment from pollution is one of the priorities for human beings, as well as national and international organizations and the governments; unfortunately in our country, given the severity of environment condition, enough attention is not paid to this issue.

Understanding the above facts, we found it necessary to dedicate part of the activities of Arj Social Organization to the environmental activities and by trying to protect the environment, fulfill our responsibility before future generations whom this environment will be as a legacy for.
